

Season 3 Episode 20

Jason's Invention

Jason is watching TV and he is watching an intense action-packed finale of a TV show. Jason said, "This is it. This is the moment that is going to define TV history for generations to come." The main hero goes against the main villain and the main hero gets stuck and locked down on a metal sheet. The villain stands over him and the villain said, "This will be the end for you. Prepare to meet your fate." The hero takes out something and then the screen goes black and the TV turns off. Jason said, "What gives!" Jason flicks on a light switch and the light turns on in the room. Jason said, "The power is not out. There must be something with the TV then." Jason smacks the TV and he said, "Work you dumb TV." Jason tries turning on the TV and it does nothing. Jason said, "Well, the TV appears to be fried. I wonder if Mason can fix it."

Jason takes the TV into Mason's lab and Mason is working on a small car with a large boxing glove on the hood. Jason said, "Mason, this is an emergency." Mason said, "Did your favorite show get cancelled again." Jason said, "No. It is something worse." Mason said, "I wonder what could be worse than your favorite show getting cancelled? Your favorite store closing?" Jason said, "I was watching the series finale of Heroman X and just as the finale was going to be concluded, the TV suddenly died for no apparent reason." Mason said, "Things die all the time for no reason. It depends on what the quality of the TV is. Is it that cheap Chinese TV you bought a year ago that had a 90 day warranty?" Jason looks at the bottom of the TV and it reads, "Cubomax. Made in China. Warranty, 90 days." Mason said, "It looks like you are out of luck." Jason said, "If the warranty is expired than it wouldn't be bad if you fixed it then." Mason said, "Do you realize how many things I fix in this place? I have this project I am working on now and then I have that matter energizer to perfect and then I have... well you know. There is plenty of equipment and unwanted parts in this lab. Maybe you can fix it yourself. It does make you smarter to repair and fix things yourself."

Jason tries using Mason's gadgets and he manages to take the TV apart and he looks through scrap parts lying around. Jason said, "How am I going to fix this TV and make it better than it was before?" Jason sees Mason and Orbot testing out features on the small car Mason is working on. Mason uses Orbot to record technical data of his gadgets. Orbot said, "This car will be some of your best work yet. I would love to go for a spin in this thing when it is done." Jason said, "Technology that can be useful and can be used as a friend to have real conversations with. I think I have an idea." Jason goes through Mason's documents that have detailed specs on all his inventions. Jason finds the files on Orbot. Jason looks through Orbot's documents and he sees how Orbot was made. He sees all the parts required and Jason said, "I think all those things are right in front of me right now."

Jason gets to work. He finds all the required parts and he places them into the shell of the TV. He configures all the parts. Jason gives the TV a wire that serves as an arm with a hand that can morph into different shapes. Jason looks at the coding part of the instructions and he codes the TV to have a personality that corresponds with his. Jason reads a section that says, "A camera must be placed in the robot for the purposes of tracking so it becomes easy to locate and track where the robot is if the robot gets lost or stolen.” Jason said, “I guess I have to place a camera in the thing.” Jason tapes a camera inside the TV.

Jason cleans off his hands and he stands over the new robot. Jason said, “It looks awesome.” Jason built a robot that is a TV with a wire arm with a hand that looks like a pair of scissors. The robot has two antennas on the top and the frame is painted blue and it has an orange screen. Jason said, “Here goes nothing.” Jason flicks a switch and the new robot comes to life. A face with triangle eyes and a sharp mouth appear on the screen. The robot said, “What can I do for you, master?” Jason said, “I am Jason. I am your master and commander. You will be designated as, T-JAY since you are pretty much an extension of me that was built into a TV screen. We will see what you are capable of. How many channels can you receive?” T-JAY checks himself and he said, “I am receiving 567 channels at this moment. I have a range of obscure international channels and I can even pick up signals from space that have already been broadcasted. Would you like to watch the broadcasted signal of Heroman X? I think it is the series finale.” Jason said, “Of course I want to watch it.”

Jason sits on the couch and watches the show. Jason said, “This is awesome. The quality is perfect and I can view shows that I missed and I can even receive channels that I wouldn’t have been able to get otherwise. This is perfect.” Jason watches the finale and it ends. Jason said, “That was the greatest thing I ever saw. What else is on?” T-JAY tunes himself to a channel where it shows people racing around the city in funny cars and they end up getting destroyed and the wimpy janitor car ends up winning the race. Jason said, “I’m hungry. I think I built something that can get me food.” T-JAY said, “You did.” T-JAY shoots out a pizza and it lands on Jason’s lap. Jason digs into the pizza. Jason said, “This really is the best day ever. I think I also built you to fly around and hover like Orbot.” T-JAY said, “Indeed you did.” Jason said, “That means I can take you anywhere.” T-JAY said, “That is correct.”

Jason takes T-JAY around the city and they play around. Jason grabs onto T-JAY and he hovers over the city. T-JAY said, “With me around, it is easier to get from one end of the city to the other and you don’t have to worry about getting stuck in traffic.” T-JAY starts to twitch and he falls and lands on a roof. Jason said, “What happened?” T-JAY said, “Carrying you like that burns off a lot of my power. Do you know a place where I can be recharged?” Jason takes T-JAY to a MacDougal’s in the city. Jason drinks a large orange soda and T-JAY is plugged in and recharging. Jason said, “I am glad I have a friend like you. I am totally showing you to my human friends. Do you know any games we can play in the park?” T-JAY said, “I have a whole library of games that I receive over the air. My knowledge and data bank are exponentially growing.” Jason said, “It is good to have a library of information that I can take with me anywhere.” Some snobby fat rich kid walks around the MacDougal’s and he sees Jason with T-JAY. He walks up to them and gives them stern looks. Jason and T-JAY look at the rich kid and T-JAY said, “What do you want, little boy?” Jason said, “Why don’t you take a picture? It will last longer.” The snobby boy said, “Today is my birthday and my grandfather told me I can have anything I want. I want your robot TV.” Jason said, “T-JAY is not for sale.” The snobby rich kid said, “I didn’t say I wanted to buy him. I said I wanted to have him. Give him to me.” Jason chugs down the last of his oversized orange soda. Jason said, “Beat it punk. I built T-JAY and I put my heart and soul into him so go take a hike.” The snobby kid grabs onto T-JAY and tries to take him. Jason jumps on the snobby kid and a fight cloud is formed over them. Jason grabs onto T-JAY’s hand and he swings T-JAY around and he smacks the kid in the head and the kid falls back and there is a blood spot on his head. Jason said, “Go back to your play place where you can go play in the ball pit and pink eye would be the least worst thing that could happen. C'mon T-JAY. Let's go somewhere where some dumb self-entitled rich kid is not going to try and steal you."

Jason is in the park with El Dorro and Pamela. T-JAY stands in the center of them and he pulls a ball out of a port on him. It is a black ball with purple lights flashing all around it. T-JAY said, "This is a game I found on some channel from Europe. It is called light ball. It is played by me throwing a ball and one of you has to hit the ball back at me and if you can hit me, you get a point. The player with the most amount of points wins. I will serve." T-JAY grabs the ball and he throws it. El Dorro grabs it and throws it back and T-JAY dodges it. Pamela grabs the ball and throws it at T-JAY and T-JAY dodges it. T-JAY grabs the ball and throws it far. Pamela grabs it and throws it back at T-JAY. T-JAY and Pamela keep throwing the ball back and forth at each other. Pamela ends up hitting T-JAY with the ball. T-JAY's screen shows all the scores for each player and Pamela is given a point. Jason said, "I can do better." The ball is whipped at Jason and Jason jumps and smacks the ball and it zips very fast through the air and it hits T-JAY spot on. T-JAY is sent flying backwards and he lands in a border of trees around the park. Jason said, "Oops. I will get him."

Jason, Pamela, and El Dorro go looking for T-JAY. Jason said, "He must have landed around here somewhere." Pamela said, "T-JAY! Where are you? Does he recognize his name?" Jason said, "He does." El Dorro said, "What if someone got him. I am prepared for a thing like that." El Dorro takes out his katana sword. Jason said, "It looks like T-JAY magically disappeared." Pamela said, "Did you put any kind of tracking device on him?" Jason said, "Come to think of it, I did." Jason, El Dorro, and Pamela go to Jason's bedroom where Jason pulls out his laptop and he clicks on an icon that is a pixelated picture of T-JAY. The laptop screen shows footage of T-JAY being captured by the snobby rich kid and a group of thugs. Jason, Pamela, and El Dorro's eyes go big. They see T-JAY being brought to a rich mansion where he gets placed in a pitch-black room.

Jason, Pamela, and El Dorro barge into Mason's lab and Mason is still working on his small car with a boxing glove on the hood. Jason said, "Mason. You have to help us. T-JAY..." Mason said, "I did warn you about those TVs." Jason said, "T-JAY was kidnapped by a greedy rich kid that wants him." Mason said, "The word is stolen since he is property. Things get stolen all the time. Most of it never gets recovered." Jason said, "This is T-JAY we are talking about. Would you go on a quest to recover Orbot if he ever got stolen?" Mason said, "That depends. Orbot carries special personal data that could be dangerous if it fell into the wrong hands." Jason said, "So does T-JAY." Mason said, "I highly doubt there could be anything in there that could be used to rule the world. Getting T-JAY back would involve risking your life by going into a dangerous mansion. Think of all the times we have almost been killed doing stuff like that. I don't think it is worth risking my life over a cheap Chinese TV." Jason said, "T-JAY is more than just a cheap Chinese TV. T-JAY is my friend. Come on gang. We are going to rescue T-JAY."

Jason, El Dorro, and Pamela go to Captain Fusion's lair. They show Captain Fusion T-JAY's footage. Captain Fusion said, "It appears as if your new friend has been captured. It looks like he is being held in a dark room in a rich person's mansion. That mansion looks familiar but I can't quite put my finger on it." The lights turn on in the room and Klassika appears on the screen of Jason's laptop and it shows Klassika's ultimate weapon. Klassika said, "We now have the source for our power. With this new machine of mine, I will send brainwave signals into everyone's brain and it will force them to buy my music and playing my music will be all they would ever want to do. That can easily be done with the advanced antenna in this robot TV.” Captain Fusion said, “It appears as if Klassika wants T-JAY for a plan to rule the world. We have to do something about this. I have an idea.” Captain Fusion looks over a list on his computer. Captain Fusion said, “I have access to all the power grids in the city.” Pamela said, “How did you get that access?” Captain Fusion said, “Let’s just say that the people trust me and I know people. What we know is that T-JAY is most likely in Klassika’s mansion. I will make the power go off to parts of the mansion so it would cause Klassika or his butler to call the electrician. We are the electricians. We would go into the mansion and find a way to turn off the power to the entire place and his security systems will fail and we can grab T-JAY and get out of there undetected. What I don’t know is where the controls to the power for the mansion is and the security controls. Some security systems are not impacted by power cuts.” Pamela said, “I live in a mansion just like this one. All the security systems are usually linked from a safe room. I know where those are. They are pretty standard in those mansions.” Captain Fusion said, “Good. It is time to put our plan in motion.”

The mansion’s butler is on the phone and he said, “Our electricity only works in certain parts of the house but it is out in other parts. I need you to have someone fix it as soon as possible. My master needs a lot of electricity for his work.” The butler is still on the phone and the doorbell rings. The butler answers it and he said, “Ah, the electricians. I haven’t even put the phone down and you are already here. My master would be most pleased.” Jason, El Dorro, Pamela, and Captain Fusion enter the mansion dressed as electricians. Pamela leads the gang to a safe in a hidden door. Pamela opens the door and enters a complex code and the door opens. The safe is revealed and the gang enters. Pamela grabs a box and she stands on it and she goes to a circuit control panel on the wall near the ceiling. Pamela does some stuff with it and it makes the power to the entire place get shut off. Captain Fusion said, “Now shut off all the security features too.” Pamela detaches some more wires and all the security defenses in the place get shut off.

The butler is in the dining room with a cup of coffee and is looking over papers. The doorbell rings and the butler answers it. It is a team of electricians. The butler said, “The other electricians you sent have already arrived. You are not needed.” The lead electrician said, “We are the only electricians the company sent. We tried to come as fast as we could because we know your master only likes it when we show up as soon as you put the phone down.” The butler grabs a walkie talkie. The Butler said, “Arrest the intruders at once.”

Thugs crowd around Jason, El Dorro, Pamela, and Captain Fusion. Jason said, “I think they are on to us.” Captain Fusion goes to fight the thugs. Jason uses his Kung Fu moves on the thugs. Jason and Captain Fusion fight the crowd of thugs and they end up going outside the safe. Thugs lock onto Pamela and El Dorro and Pamela reattaches some wires and it makes the safe door close and lock leaving them in the safe. El Dorro said, “What did you do that for?” Pamela said, “There are too many of them. They are greatly outnumbered. By us staying in here, someone else will come and bring us out and we can save Jason and Captain Fusion. If we did stay out there and fight, we would get beat up and captured too.” El Dorro said, “You better be right.”

Jason and Captain Fusion are locked on metal sheets and Klassika stands over them with his large machine. The large machine stands in the center of the room and it is connected to wires and it has energy flowing through it. Klassika said, “This machine of mine utilizes your new TV friend...” Klassika points to T-JAY connected in the center of the machine. Klassika said, “T-JAY will use his advanced antenna abilities to transmit my signals to everyone’s brains.” Jason said, “Tell us something we don’t know.” Klassika brings his grandson into the room and he is the snobby rich kid. Klassika said, "You see. It was my grandson's birthday and I told him he could have anything he wants and he wanted something to aid my new machine. How nice of him. He wanted something for someone else. He is selfless. I wish you people that claim to be great heroes could be selfless like that." More energy surges around the machine. The butler enters the room and he said, "Master Klassika. The real electricians have fixed the electricity and all electricity has been restored." Klassika said, "Good. Now behold to witness my plan in action. Your brainwaves have never seen nor felt anything like this before."

There is a large glass window in the foyer of the mansion and Mason speeds up a ramp and crashes through the window while driving his new small car with a boxing glove on the front of it. Mason drives it around the mansion and he drives up to the safe door. Mason looks at the screen in the car and he said, "It seems they are in here." Mason uses the boxing glove and he smashes down the door and El Dorro and Pamela are freed. El Dorro and Pamela jump in Mason's car. Mason drives off. Pamela said, "So this is why you didn't want to come with us earlier." Mason said, "You could say that." Mason smashes the car into the room Jason and Captain Fusion are locked up in and they arrive at the machine. El Dorro sees the wires and he jumps out of the car and he cuts up the wires with his katana. El Dorro aims his Katana at Klassika's face and El Dorro said, "Give up you fool." Klassika said, "You're the fool in this case. You cut the wires to my machine but it was already filled with power. Now, in addition to sending signals to your brainwaves, it will also explode and destroy all of us." El Dorro said, "If that's the case then..." El Dorro frees Jason and Captain Fusion. Klassika's thugs enter the room. Captain Fusion, El Dorro, Pamela, and Mason fight off the thugs and Mason uses his new small car to fight off the thugs with his boxing glove. Jason climbs up the structure and he finds where T-JAY is embedded in the structure. Jason tries to get T-JAY out of there and Klassika climbs up to where Jason is and he fights Jason off. Jason grabs onto part of the machine and he manages to unscrew T-JAY and T-JAY is set free. Jason grabs onto T-JAY and he throws T-JAY at Klassika. Klassika falls and lands on his back and cracks the floor. The machine transmits the brainwaves and people all over the world stop what they are doing and they go to stores and buy Klassika's music albums.

Jason, Mason, Pamela, El Dorro, and Captain Fusion look at each other and Jason said, "I just got a sudden craving for Klassika's music." Pamela said, "I think we all have a craving for his music." Captain Fusion said, "Let's go and buy some of his records then." T-JAY sees what is happening. T-JAY looks at the machine and he sees the antenna on it that is being used to transmit the signals. T-JAY zips to the antenna and Klassika grabs onto T-JAY. T-JAY makes his hand turn into a fist and he fights Klassika. Klassika smacks T-JAY's screen leaving a smudge on the screen. T-JAY throws his fist fast and he smacks Klassika in the crotch and Klassika falls to the floor and makes another large crack in the floor. T-JAY goes to the antenna and breaks it. Jason, Mason, Pamela, El Dorro, and Captain Fusion return to normal. Jason, Mason, Pamela, El Dorro, Captain Fusion and T-JAY get into the small car and Mason speeds off. Mason drives his car and he barely makes it out of the mansion the moment before it explodes. The mansion is destroyed and it looks all in ruins. Klassika and his grandson go flying out of the mansion and they land in a lake somewhere.

Jason, Mason, Pamela, El Dorro, and Captain Fusion are in Jason and Mason's living room and T-JAY is on and he is showing DDD News. George Ferrier comes on the screen and he said, "Hello, I am George Ferrier of DDD News. In today's news, almost everyone in the world got a sudden urge to buy music albums made by Klassika. Klassika was going to be the best-selling music artist in the world and he would have won a world record for selling the most amount of music albums in a short amount of time. That urge suddenly died down for an unknown reason. What caused people to suddenly want to buy Klassika's records? The world may never know. In other news, the stock prices of Chinese TVs suddenly plummeted as a few people reported their Chinese TVs suddenly dying out without warning." T-JAY switches the channel to an action movie. T-JAY said, "Enough of this crap. The news is all crap. I would rather we all watch something fun like an action movie on a channel you would normally have to pay money for and only if you lived in a certain area." Everyone watches the movie T-JAY is showing.
